Prime Grafex new Memorial Plates technology for the funeral industry. The system is a DIY solution, providing the industry a turn key solution that your families will not only love, but introduce revenue streams into your funeral business. The plates can be used for grave-stones, temporary markers, name plates, columbarium and coffins. The print-in technique is a unique process to print name plates or photos on metal. The ink actually becomes part of the plate itself. That makes them weatherproof, UV-resistant and scratch-free.

The process is easy also.

Rock Photo is a distinctive product for Funeral Homes that combines full-color photographs with the natural beauty and durability of rustic stone.

Created from finely-grained sedimentary rock, Rock Photo's uniform thickness and ultra-flat coated image area provides for beautiful and consistent photo transfers while the individually fractured edges help to seamlessly blend the printed image into each piece – resulting in a one-of-a-kind photo memorial.

Each piece is hand-crafted from sedimentary rock; the print area will vary from piece to piece. This makes each and every item that you create unique.

Designed to preserve cherished memories. The result is a vibrant, high-definition tribute that captures the personality of a loved one with timeless elegance. Unlike traditional frames, this fusion of imagery and earth provides a tangible, permanent memorial that feels as enduring as the legacy it honours.
